Let There Be Light
KOJO Worldwide Introduces the Peek-A-Boo Shower Curtain

SAN DIEGO__March 25, 2003. Gone are the days of a light-limited shower enclosure. Introducing the Peek-A-Boo Shower Curtain, another hospitality innovation from Designs by Koni and KOJO Worldwide. These top-quality, durable shower curtains are offered in multiple design options, each topped with a 16" sheer panel. This unique sheer-top design permits more light into the shower enclosure, providing hotel guests a brighter and safer shower experience.

Though the Peek-A-Boo shower curtain is designed with beauty and safety in mind, functionality also takes top priority. Solid brass or chrome grommets and mildew resistant, washable liners make it an easy-to-care-for and long lasting new design alternative that will add value to any hotel property.

KOJO Worldwide, headquartered in San Diego, California, has been servicing the hospitality industry for over 28 years—from concept to completion. KOJO Worldwide is a leader in hospitality fabrics and manufacturing custom bedcovers, window treatments, in addition to reupholstery and drapery cleaning services. KOJO Worldwide has a 200,000-square-foot factory just 30 minutes from San Diego, and the 50,000-square-foot Phoenix Drapery division in Vernon, California.
