

KOJO Worldwide Adds Value to Your Success

KOJO Worldwide, a leading manufacturer of hotel bedcovers and draperies, has been servicing the hospitality industry for over 28 years—from concept to completion. KOJO Worldwide offers a unique collection of high quality fabric furnishings.

Joe E. Robertson, Chief Executive Officer, founded Southwest Quilted Products in 1975, and Koni Kim, President, founded Koniart in 1976. The two companies were destined to merge due to the strong synergy between the partners' attitudes and ethics, which contribute to their success. The dynamic duo agree that "taking care of our customers at any cost comes first" is their mantra. Their mission is "to service the worldwide hotel industry with the best quality products and services, thereby providing the best value for every customer."

KOJO Worldwide, headquartered in San Diego, California, is moving forward by marrying custom fabric design to bedcover and drapery manufacturing. All Koni designs are created with finished products in mind—applying the artistic effects of scale, repeat motifs and pattern design to bedcovers, drapery and upholstery. With its comprehensive and creative in-house capabilities, KOJO offers what no other hospitality manufacturer can: one-stop solutions for bed and window treatments.

KOJO Worldwide helps their customers achieve their design dreams. With state-of-the-art equipment and recent expansions, KOJO Worldwide is constantly designing wide-width fabric for their "Seamless" bed coverings and draperies. These fabrics not only last longer but also reduce manufacturing costs.

Skillfully trained KOJO employees worldwide provide measurement, installation and onsite upholster and touch-up services. KOJO project managers expertly coordinate every detail of each project from start to finish. The KOJO managers follow their customers' schedule and provide a single point of contact for interior designers, other project managers, purchasing companies and hotel owners.

KOJO currently has over 1000 employees located in San Diego, California, Bishopville, South Carolina, Salem Oregon, Los Angeles, California, Baja California, Mexico and Quintana Roo, Mexico.
